Occupations excluded	Name occupations	Covered by the legislation (Social Security Act, Art 29) are: "The following persons are insured against occupational injuries under this Section: a. Wage-earners who work in Iceland, with the exception of foreign nationals who hold official positions for foreign states and the foreign staff of such officials. Work aboard an Icelandic vessel or aircraft, or a vessel or aircraft owned or operated by an Icelandic party, is equivalent to work in Iceland for the purpose of this indent, providing that wages are paid in Iceland. b. Apprentices in legally-protected industrial trades and students undergoing practical training in the health services and natural sciences, and university students when they are engaged in practical training. c. Vessel owners who are themselves members of the crew. d. Persons engaged in the rescue of people in mortal danger or in taking precautions against imminent serious damage to items of value. e. Athletes (sportsmen) who participate in athletic activities, whether these take the form of training, exhibitions or competitions, and have reached the age of 16 years. The scope of this provision may be defined in further detail in regulations.1) f. Employers in agriculture who engage in agricultural work, their spouses and their children aged between 13 and 17 years (inclusive). g. Employers who work in their own businesses in occupational sectors other than those named in indent f. An exemption may be granted from occupational injury insurance under indent a of the first paragraph if the person concerned is demonstrably insured under foreign occupational injury insurance legislation. All those who work in return for remuneration, without themselves being employers, whether in the form of hourly rates, fixed wages, share of fishing catch or payment for piece-work, are considered wage-earners.

Summary/citation: "An industrial injury within the meaning of this Act shall be an accident, cf. section 6, or an occupational disease, cf. section 7, which is a consequence of the work or the working conditions, subject, however, to section 10 A" (Sec. 5 of the Consolidated Workers' Compensation Act).

"(1)Occupational diseases within the meaning of this Act shall be –

(i)diseases which – according to medical documentation – are brought about by specific influence to which certain groups of people, through their work or working conditions, are more exposed than persons not having such work. Furthermore occupational diseases shall comprise such diseases as are contracted by a live-born child prior to its delivery as a consequence of its mother's work during pregnancy. The Director General of the National Board of Industrial Injuries, after negotiations with the Occupational Diseases Committee, cf. section 9, shall compile a list of such diseases as are deemed to be of the said nature;

(ii)other diseases, including diseases in a live-born child contracted prior to its delivery, where it is established either that, on the basis of the most recent medical documentation, the disease meets the requirements set out in the first sentence of paragraph (i) of this section, or that it must be deemed to have been caused, solely or mainly, by the special nature of the work.

(2)This Act shall be applicable to diseases caused by influence on parents prior to the conception or after the delivery of a child where changes are made in the list referred to in subsection (1)(i) above, or in accordance with subsection (1)(ii), where it is established that such influence had an injurious effect on foetus or child.

(3)Diseases comprised by subsection (1)(i) and subsection (2) above may be recognised only after submission to the Occupational Diseases Committee, cf. section 9. Such diseases shall be submitted to the Occupational Diseases Committee where the National Board of Industrial Injuries deems it possible that the disease will qualify for recognition" (Sec. 7 of the Workers' Compensation Act).
